Big Cities of the United States : Los Angeles, California

Los Angeles is the second largest city in the United States, after New York City. Often abbreviated simply as L.A., this big city has gained worldwide fame for its production of popular entertainment - movies, television programs, and various music recordings.