

Countries of Africa: Uganda

The Republic of Uganda is a landlocked nation in east central Africa, sitting on the north shore of Lake Victoria. The Victoria Nile River transects the country, joining Lake Albert on the western Congolese border. Several other lakes make up Ugandan territory, and the nation enjoys fertile soils and fairly regular rainfall, although the climate does get drier as you travel north.

