

The Shearwater

Shearwaters are medium-sized ocean birds with long wings. They live long and travel far. Some species migrate more than fourteen thousand kilometers between their nesting grounds in the southern hemisphere and their other, northern home.

Handwriting practice lines consisting of multiple sets of solid top and bottom lines with a dotted midline.